TRANSLATION NOTES:

Since I got the chinese version of this manga, I don't have a clue on what most of the names are in Japanese... Luckily, they have the city and Martin's name in english already. But as for the rest, I had to make it up to what it sounds like in chinese. Now thanx to some really nice people who informed me the actual japanese names in the manga, but I couldn't change it now that I've already got half of this manga done. So I hope you don't mind. The manga's name is "Darabou ta Keiji", which actually really mean Thief and Detective. (Phew...) Hugo's name is 'Kenzoh'. Hmmm... I like Hugo better^^

Senpai = Senior, meaning that Wile(the dude with glasses that's teasing Hugo at the end of the chapter) is Hugo's senior in the police force.

Kaitou = Literally means weird thief. Martin is a kaitou, so is DARK from DNAngel~

Well, I hope this clears up some translation questions. hope you enjoyed Thief and Detective as much as I did^^
